Call for Papers

ANTS 2024 invites submissions of original papers on all aspects of antennas and propagation. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Antenna design and analysis
- Propagation modeling
- Measurement techniques
- Microwave and millimeter-wave antennas
- Antenna arrays

- Metamaterials and metasurfaces
- Antenna applications

Submission Instructions

Papers should be submitted electronically through the conference website. Papers should be no more than 6 pages in length, including figures and references. All papers will be peer-reviewed and evaluated based on originality, significance, and clarity of presentation.

Registration

Registration for ANTS 2024 will open in spring 2024. Early registration discounts will be available.
