

Mediation and Commercial Contract Law: A Comprehensive Guide for Lawyers and Business Professionals

Mediation is a form of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) in which a neutral third party, the mediator, helps disputing parties reach a mutually acceptable agreement. Mediation is a voluntary process, and the parties are free to leave the mediation at any time. However, mediation is often successful in resolving disputes because it allows the parties to communicate directly with each other and to explore their interests and needs in a safe and confidential environment.
