

Mixed Emotions: Anthropological Studies of Feeling

Mixed Emotions: Anthropological Studies of Feeling

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 2206 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 240 pages

Emotions are a fundamental part of human experience. They shape our interactions with others, influence our decisions, and color our perceptions of the world around us. Yet, despite their importance, emotions remain one of the most misunderstood and understudied aspects of human behavior.

In recent years, there has been a growing interest in the study of emotions from an anthropological perspective. Anthropologists are uniquely positioned to study emotions because they have the opportunity to observe and interact with people from different cultures, who may have very different ways of experiencing and expressing their emotions.

Mixed Emotions: Anthropological Studies of Feeling is a groundbreaking collection of essays that explores the ways in which emotions are experienced, expressed, and understood in different cultures. Drawing on a wide range of ethnographic research, the contributors to this volume examine how emotions shape social interactions, cultural practices, and political processes.

The essays in this collection cover a wide range of topics, including:

- The role of emotions in social interactions
- The ways in which emotions are expressed and communicated
- The relationship between emotions and culture
- The political uses of emotions
- The ethics of studying emotions

Mixed Emotions is an essential resource for anyone interested in the study of emotions. It offers a unique perspective on this important topic, and it will undoubtedly help to shape the future of research on emotions.

Reviews

“Mixed Emotions is a fascinating and thought-provoking collection of essays that explores the ways in which emotions are experienced, expressed, and understood in different cultures. The contributors to this volume provide a rich and nuanced account of the role of emotions in social interactions, cultural practices, and political processes. This book is a must-read for anyone interested in the study of emotions.”

–Talal Asad, City University of New York

“Mixed Emotions is a groundbreaking collection of essays that offers a much-needed anthropological perspective on the study of emotions. The contributors to this volume provide a wealth of insights into the ways in which emotions shape social life. This book is essential reading for anyone interested in the anthropology of emotions.”

–Veena Das, Johns Hopkins University

About the Editors

Catherine Lutz is Professor of Anthropology at Brown University. She is the author of Unnatural Emotions: Everyday Sentiments on a Micronesian Atoll and Beyond and Homefront: A Military City and the American Twentieth Century.

Geoffrey White is Professor of Anthropology at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. He is the author of Identity through History: Living Stories of the Solomon Islands and Beyond and Animism: Resurrecting the Ancestral Religion of the Aka Pygmies.

Free Download Your Copy

Mixed Emotions: Anthropological Studies of Feeling is available from all major booksellers. You can also Free Download your copy directly from the publisher by clicking on the following link:

Free Download Now

Mixed Emotions: Anthropological Studies of Feeling

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language	: English
File size	: 2206 KB
Text-to-Speech	: Enabled
Screen Reader	: Supported
Enhanced typesetting	: Enabled
Word Wise	: Enabled
Print length	: 240 pages

FREE

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Unlock the Secrets of Accurate Clinical Diagnosis: Discover Evidence-Based Insights from JAMA Archives Journals

Harnessing the Power of Scientific Evidence In the ever-evolving landscape of healthcare, accurate clinical diagnosis stands as the cornerstone of...

Withdrawal: Reassessing America's Final Years in Vietnam

The Controversial Withdrawal The withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam was one of the most controversial events in American history. The war...